Deficit Figures Prove Flemming and Staley Are New Deal Critics Wrong, Roosevelt Report Says

"Budget Summation" Is Delivered To Show That New Deal Spending Means No Heavy Boost in Taxes.

OVER BILLION LESS

No New Taxes Necessary, Unless Supreme Court Rules Out AAA Processing Levies.

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt told the nation, in a report published today, that federal deficits will not be as large as originally estimated and that his critics are wrong when they say New Deal spending spells heavy boosts in taxes.

In a "budget summation" which marks a new displeasure in American fiscal procedure, he declared that economic conditions have grown "decidedly better"; asserted that tax receipts are higher than expected; and estimated that the deficit for the current fiscal year will be $2,281,000,000, or $1,247,000,000 less than his estimate last January.

"The prevailing rate of recovery," he said, "points to the speedy decline of federal expenditures for emergency activities."

Unless the AAA's processing taxes are knocked out by the supreme court, he argued, the government "will not need new taxes or increased rates in existing taxes to meet the expenses of its necessary annual operations."

This will be true, he said, despite "erroneous and gloomy predictions" that "heavy increases in taxation will be required to balance the budget and retire our public debt."

His remarks on taxation were regarded in many quarters as a follow-up to his recent declaration that business may expect a "breathing spell."

"Better Economic Conditions" The budget summation, designed to take account of economic changes and congressional appropriations since the budget first was presented to Congress in January, stressed reports of better economic conditions.

This is a subject to which the President is referring frequently as he travels across the country, and administration leaders are seeking to hammer home the argument that the improvement proves the worth of New Deal policies. In a radio speech last night, Postmaster General Farley told the administration critics to "look at the market reports."

In his budget summation, the President said that if the AAA should be ruled unconstitutional "then we will have to face the problem of financing existing contracts for benefit payments out of some form of new taxes."

He did not promise a balanced budget for the next fiscal year, but he said that the budget, he said, is being prepared with a view to "sharply decreasing the spread between income and outgo." His figures for the present fiscal year were based on the promise that the $4,000,000,000 of work relief money will be spent in full. The works program, he said, "has moved more slowly than I hoped, but is now accelerating with reasonable assurance of providing adequate employment during the coming months."

Inventories Are Low

Of the economic outlook, he asserted: "At this date inventories are low. Industry has shown its strength against the current of seasonal slackness and output and trade are expanding. Capital market conditions are favorable. Crops are expected to be larger this season and to yield farmers more income than in the past year."

Estimating that the deficit for this fiscal year, ending June 30, 1936, would be $200,000,000 less than in the previous 12 months, he added: "This reduction can be realized, however, only in the event that no new home of production are added to the year's production."

This was taken in some quarters as a reference to the $2,000,000,000 of gold profits.

Revenues $4,470,000,000

The document estimated that revenues for the present 1935 fiscal year would be $4,470,000,000. This compares with $4,269,000,000 reported in January. $1,000,000,000 collected in 1935 and $1,000,000,000 in 1934.

Expenditures were set at $6,750,000,000 as compared with $6,750,000,000 estimate of $4,520,000,000. The total spent last year was $4,520,000,000 and in 1934 it was $4,520,000,000.

Last January, the President estimated that on June 30, 1935, the deficit would stand at $4,281,000,000, a sum of $1,247,000,000 less than the $5,528,000,000 estimated in January.

The President said that the $4,281,000,000 deficit was based on the assumption that the AAA processing taxes would be ruled unconstitutional. If the supreme court rules that the AAA processing taxes are valid, the deficit for the current fiscal year would be $2,281,000,000, or $1,247,000,000 less than his estimate last January.

Holland-American Liner Not Floated on First Attempt Today: British Steamer Stands By.

Miami, Fla. Sept. 30 (AP)—The tropical disturbance, which struck Cuba and Jamaica and threatened the Florida east coast, was located today 660 miles east of Savannah, Ga. and is expected to pass near or probably northwest of Bermuda this afternoon.

In the wake of the destructive hurricane the Holland-American liner Rotterdam, carrying about 470 passengers and 525 crew members, was around 60 miles southeast of Kingston, Jamaica.

The master of the vessel, Captain Van Hulken, said in a wireless message, "Everybody well and quiet, no danger."

After missing the Florida coast Saturday night, the storm curved toward the Bahamas. An aerial survey of that section today showed no live waves but property damage was great.

In Jamaica there were two deaths, while the fatalities in Cuba, were placed at 35 with more than 300 injured.

The heaviest loss of life as well as the greatest property damage was reported in central Cuba.

At Cienfuegos 17 bodies were in hospitals and morgues. Three persons were killed at Gibara, Oriente Province, two at Cumaná, Apure three at St. Sienna and four bodies were reported dead in Abasco, and one in San Juan de los Rios. Authorities and volunteers searched for other bodies.

Peas were expressed for the 6,200 Asperfolk at Cumar Islands 175 miles from Jamaica.

Bimini, in the British Bahamas 45 miles off the Florida coast, escaped without loss of life but the property damage was great. It was reported after an airplane survey of the island.

Charles Leber, piloting a plane chartered by Governor Reed Clifford of the Bahamas, reported 50 percent of the houses were destroyed in a wind that reached 125 miles an hour.

Wireless reports from Great Abaco said considerable property damage had been done there, but there was no report of loss of life.

As the hurricane moved northwest from Cuba and Jamaica it headed directly for Miami. Just in time to miss the mainland in veered eastward passing 40 to 50 miles off the city's coast.

Residents hoarded in their doors and windows. Many moved to hotels, fearing to remain in their homes.

The Dutch liner Rotterdam, carrying 976 persons, was standing by in a calm sea today to take off the passengers of the Rotterdam, flagship of the Holland-American Line, around a 200 to 300 miles southeast of Kingston, Jamaica.

The first attempt to float the liner of the Rotterdam was unsuccessful. Captain J. Van Hulken, master of the Rotterdam, reported "no luck" after he saw that all was calm.

Parts of New York State Decked in Winter Garb

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 30 (AP)—Parts of New York state were decked out in winter garb today in the wake of the season's first heavy snowstorm.

The snow was more than an inch deep at Oswego, and in the northern Adirondacks, and light snow or hail was reported in the last 24 hour at other points in the state.

Snow fell at Cauteau Lake and Mountain View two Adirondack points but not so much at Oswego. Head the "Adirondack" of New York state.

Heavy frost was reported at Cortland and Hornell. Light snow was reported near a CCC camp at West Almond. Allegany county also at Wayland, Cohocton and Lodi, Lake Steuben county.

Half for 15 minutes at Lockport leaving the ground covered with ice globules. Farmer said strong winds blew most of the remaining early apples and peaches from the trees.

Snow continued falling however at Vernonville, a small village 12 miles from Saranac Lake. Snow fell for several hours in Saranac Lake last night and cannot mount peak this morning.

Temperatures were generally about freezing at northern New York points early today.

Three Persons Injured In Auto Accident Near New Paltz Sunday

Three persons were injured and two automobiles wrecked in an auto mobile accident Sunday night at 7:30 about a mile outside of the village of New Paltz on the road to Kingston.

Mrs. Marion Van Gordon, 27, of 16 Knapp avenue, Middletown, suffered a concussion of the brain. She was treated by Dr. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz who removed her to his home where she spent the night.

Last night Dr. DeWitt feared Mrs. Van Gordon had a fractured skull and would not let her be removed to a hospital. This morning, at his office, she was reported in fair condition. She has a concussion, instead of a fracture.

The other two injured were William Brady, 26, and Kenneth Ashley, 26, both of Fort Edward. Brady is a brother of Mrs. Van Gordon.

Mrs. Van Gordon's daughter, Marion, aged 12, who was with her in the family's Chevrolet coupe, escaped injury. Oliver Van Gordon, 26, her husband, was not in the car when the Brady auto collided with it by having left the car to get some water.

State Trooper Andrew Klein, who investigated the accident, said Van Gordon told him she stopped the Chevrolet to get some water for the radiator parking it on the right hand side of the road, partly in the gutter and partly in the shoulder of the highway. He said Mrs. Van Gordon's car was hit by the other car.

While Van Gordon was getting water Brady's 1934 Ford coupe, about 40 miles an hour, ran into the rear of the Chevrolet. The Chevrolet was pushed back about 100 feet and the Ford was thrown into the air.

Brady and Ashley were removed to the Kingston Hospital by the ambulance of the Kingston Hospital. Mrs. Van Gordon was removed to the Kingston Hospital by the ambulance of the Kingston Hospital.

No Definite Date is Set For Proclamation: False Reports Irk Emperor

Selassie Tells League Time Has Come for Ethiopia to Push General Mobilization or Fail in Its Duty.

23 SHIPS AT SEA

40,000 Italian Soldiers on High Seas en Route to Eritrea for Service.

Addis Ababa Sept. 30 (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie after informing the League of Nations that a general Ethiopian mobilization was imminent decided to await Geneva's reaction to his message today before proclaiming the call to arms.

An adviser to the king of kings asserted that if necessary 200,000 Ethiopian warriors would soon be marching.

No definite date was set for the general mobilization, however, and authorities said it was conceivable that the proclamation even might be withheld if the League of Nations or the Ethiopian delegation to Geneva advised such action.

The government, aroused by false reports published abroad that carried by Associated Press, that the general mobilization would be called "Tuesday," announced officials that no specific date had been set.

Government officials urged correspondents to be more accurate and announced, "The general mobilization because of the gravity of the situation, but no precise date has been fixed."

Calling the League of Nations attention to the "increasing gravity of Italian aggression," Haile Selassie said in his telegram to Geneva.

"The time has come when we would be failing in our duty if we longer delayed general mobilization."

One of his principal counselors said "we cannot protect our frontiers against possible sudden invasion and at the same time refrain from mobilization."

Common prudence cannot us to be aloof.

War Appears Inevitable

"To our general delegation and to some of our government officials here who appear inevitable and imminent. There is a point beyond which even the patience of a small, weak nation like Ethiopia will not go."

He insisted, however, "the emperor will not abandon Christian faith, religion, supreme belief in the justice of Ethiopia's cause and still places hope in God and the League to save the situation."

When and if war drums roll out, national warning across the hills, mountains and valleys of Ethiopia, Haile Selassie's adviser said, men and women alike will rush to the defense of their nation's independence and territorial sovereignty.

"If Mussolini's this or present forces were the frontiers represent general mobilization. He has crushed the emperor's power. The emperor has for more than a year as he has been fighting the imperial army."

Necessary, 20,000 men will soon be mobilized. On the north the emperor's army is fighting the Italian army. The emperor's army is fighting the Italian army.

Just A Year Ago Today...

Today, September 30, 1935, is the anniversary of the signing of the Kellogg-Briand Pact, which outlawed war as an instrument of national policy.

The Kellogg-Briand Pact, signed in Paris on August 27, 1928, was a landmark in the history of international law. It was the first time that the world's leading nations had agreed to outlaw war as a means of settling disputes.

The pact was signed by 15 nations, including the United States, France, Great Britain, and Japan. It was a significant step towards the establishment of a world peace.

County 4-H Members Break World Records

Wesley Smith, Saugerties, and Carl Mikesh, St. Remy, share the honor of having set new records for egg production by hens owned by 4-H or junior poultrymen. Smith's hen, No. 6, laid 289 eggs and scored 236 points in 51 weeks at the 4-H Laying test held at Horseheads. Mikesh's hen, No. 3, laid 296 eggs and scored 251 points in the same time.

A letter from R. C. Ogle, Laying Test Supervisor, makes the following statement: "The splendid total of 296 lbs. of course, the highest egg record ever produced in the 4-H Club test, and I assume without doubt a world record for birds owned by 4-H Club or juvenile poultrymen."

Both birds would undoubtedly have passed the 199 mark if their record had been for the full year, 52 weeks. In the New York State Egg Laying Tests the scores are kept on both number of eggs and points. Points are awarded according to the size of the eggs. A two ounce egg scores one point, an egg weighing 1.8 ounces scores 0.9 points and an egg weighing 2.2 ounces scores 1.1 points. The 289 eggs laid by Smith's hen averaged 2.05 ounces while the 296 eggs laid by Mikesh's hen averaged 1.90 ounces.

The awards in the test are made on the basis of points and three Ulster county members had the three highest individual birds. Smith's hen with 296 points was first. George Schneider, St. Remy, took second with a hen that laid 270 eggs scoring 287 points. Mikesh had third place with 283 points. Ulster county also has the distinction of having five of the ten high individual birds because No. 7 in the Mikesh pen took sixth with 269 points and No. 1 in the same pen scored 262 points for ninth place.

The winning hens owned by Mikesh were part of the pen of five White Leghorns which he sent to the laying test October 1, 1934. He had reared them from baby chicks following closely the improved methods recommended by the 4-H clubs. The pen placed third in the test only eight points behind the winners. However, the five birds did lay the greatest number of eggs. His final score was 1,258 eggs and 1,241 points on an average for each of the five birds of 252 eggs weighing 1.97 ounces.

Wesley Smith's pen of five were Rhode Island Reds that he had bred and reared. They finished fifth with a pen total of 1,155 eggs and 1,165 points. The average per bird being 231 eggs weighing 2.02 ounces. His pen was sponsored by the Saugerties Lions Club which paid half of the $10 entry fee.

George Schneider's pen of five White Leghorns that he bred and reared himself finished sixth with 1,099 eggs and 1,105 points or an average per bird of 219 eggs weighing 2.05 ounces. Both the Schneider and Mikesh pens were composed of birds tracing either directly or indirectly to Kauders pedigree Leghorns. Irving J. Kauder was also a sponsor of this 4-H Club project, paying half on an entry fee.

Ulster county 4-H members first entered the State Laying Test in 1932-33. During each of the three years that they have been competitors Ulster county birds have won both first and second individual awards. George Schneider's birds took first and second in 1932-1933. Joseph O'Brien's, Saugerties, hen took first in 1933-34. A hen owned by Franklin Kelder, Accord, took second in that test. This year the Ulster county members did one better with first, second, and third. This test is open to the 2586 young people who are enrolled as 4-H poultry members in New York state. Each year 15 to 20 members with the most outstanding records enter their pullets in the test.

The members who have won these outstanding awards have followed closely the Ulster county 4-H poultry program which recommends the following approved practices:

Breed or buy locally hatched, purebred chicks that are hatched early from disease free and high producing stock that lay large eggs.

Follow recommendations given in Cornell bulletins in feeding, rearing and caring for young poultry and hens.

Keep production records on all laying flocks and cull poor producers.

This program, which has enabled these 4-H members entering the 4-H laying test to make such high records is being followed by many other 4-H members in this county. Their flocks are far exceeding the yearly production of 120 eggs per bird which is the average for the United States. Many are preparing themselves to become commercial poultrymen in Ulster county where high producing, disease free hens are a paying business enterprise.

Gives Simple Method For Homemade Cider

Geneva, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Based on extensive studies and observations on cider making carried on over a period of years as part of a large research program on the utilization of fruit products, Prof. W. F. Walsh, chemist at the State Experiment Station here, has brought together in a brief and readable circular the important steps to be followed in making a high-quality apple cider at home. Several new ideas in cider making coming out of the Station's researches are presented in the circular in the belief that they will make possible a greatly improved product. A copy of the circular, which is number 149 and entitled "Cider Making on the Farm", may be obtained upon request to the Station.

"The most important consideration in making a good cider is the proper selection of the apples from which it is to be made," says Prof. Walsh, who then proceeds to classify the commoner varieties of apples into five groups with regard to their cider-making qualities. In some cases very good cider can be made from a single variety, he says, while in other cases it is desirable to blend varieties to overcome excessive acidity or astringency of certain varieties.

Tells How To Carbonate Cider

Precautions to be observed in the pressing of the fruit are set forth, while the clarification of the pressed juice, filtration, carbonation, and preservation of the cider are dealt with in some detail. Proper attention to each of these steps in the making and storing of cider will result in a greatly improved product in the opinion of the Station chemists. Clarification can be achieved by the use of an enzyme preparation or by the so-called gelatin-tannin method. It is explained, while filtration can be greatly simplified by observing the directions outlined in the circular. A homemade filter for fruit juices is fully described and illustrated. Carbonated, clarified cider is a very pleasing drink, according to the Station workers, and there is little doubt in their minds but that carbonated apple cider will compete successfully with other carbonated beverages once it is introduced to the public. A simple method for carbonating cider by the use of "dry ice" is described and will appeal to those who make cider on a small scale and cannot afford to install complicated and costly equipment for this purpose.

What's best for both of us."

—ADAPTED

Come to think of it, haven't we all dual selves? . . . One to acquire and one to bestow; one to work and one to play; one self to provide what the other self needs.

It isn't selfishness to think about yourself. It isn't arrogance to take pride in your appearance. It isn't egotism to strive to impress others. It's just good sense in the direction of self-progress—especially in business. . . .

So, tell You to give You more consideration. Spruce up! This is the season to buy new clothes. And the surest way to get the best styles and values is to "shop" through the advertisements in this newspaper—because:

The merchants and manufacturers who thus put their wares on exhibition and their prices in black-and-white cannot afford to risk their reputations by making extravagant claims for doubtful merchandise. Read and trust the advertisements. They'll help you find what you want—and save money!

PATTERN 5894

Have you tried knitting a dress all in one piece on a circular needle? It's a very easy way of knitting. You start this dress right at the neck and knit round and round. The somewhat open stitch that forms the body of the dress is quickly learned; the plain rose and panel set it off effectively. You can make the sleeves long or short as you wish. The dress is one you'll have use for on a great variety of occasions.

In pattern 5894 you will find complete instructions for making the dress shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements. The dress comes in sizes 16-18 and 38-40.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

Irons Take On New Wrinkle

Irons, catching the spirit of the time, have gone streamlined. Another iron improvement is that instead of the conventional "low, medium, high" heat indicator, the scale shows "linen, cotton, wool, silk." The heat, of course, is adjusted to each fabric.

Cleaning Hints

To clean paint take two ounces of washing soda and place in a pint of warm water. Then wash your paint and afterward give it a final washing in cold, clear water—not too cold.

To take ink spots off fingers, wet the spot on the end of a match. The phosphorus will do the rest, although not always with merely one application. It will do it with a second or third application in all cases.

On October 3, 1911 Fire Prevention Day was inaugurated and first observed throughout the United States. It began when the Fire Marshals' Association of North America suggested that the 40th anniversary of this great conflagration be set apart for bringing home to the American public the much needed lesson of fire prevention.

PLAN AND PLANT GARDEN IN FALL FOR NEXT SEASON'S FLOWERING

NOW'S THE TIME TO PLANT TULIPS

Spring is tulip-time. But fall's the time to plant new bulbs, or to separate bulbs already in the garden.

We've pictured two popular varieties. The sturdy cup-shaped Darwin tulips on the left come in glorious shades of pink and red, white, yellow and lavender, and in a rich dark maroon that's almost black. On the right are the equally hardy but more delicate looking, lily-shaped Cottage tulips that will contribute brilliantly lovely yellow, rose and red shades to the color scheme of the garden in spring. These, and the Old Dutch or Breeder tulips, whose gorgeous colors include rich purple, brown, terra-cotta and bronze, make a glorious showing whenever they're grown.

Hints On Planting

If you'd be sure of having tulips in bloom next spring, ask for "blooming-size" bulbs. These should bloom the first year after planting. There is another size, called "planting size," which is smaller and may not bloom until the second spring.

And, as you know, tulip bulbs vary in size. So don't plant them

English Film Star Sees Children As Uncanny Critics Of Pictures

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Two photographs of a little girl with long blond hair stand on a table in the penthouse apartment of Cicely Courtneidge, English comedienne.

"My little girl," explains Miss Courtneidge, "and a very astute critic she is."

Miss Courtneidge, being on loan to Metro from Gaumont-British for one picture only, came alone to Hollywood. Her husband, Jack Hulbert, stellar British comedian, and their little daughter remained in England. Hulbert will be coming to Hollywood, however, to join her for the homeward trip.

Husbands, Too
"Children," the actress commented, "make very good critics, with an uncanny sense of what is good, and bad. They are entirely honest, too, and quite frank. My own little girl helps me, and I find her comments on pictures and picture people most interesting."

Husbands too—her own at any rate—can qualify as helpful critics. "Of course Jack has been in the theater so long and is so familiar with it," she said, "that he might be said to be especially well qualified to criticize a performance. When he says a thing is good, I know it is. If he doesn't like a thing, then I know it is bad."

A Bit Of All Right
Miss Courtneidge, as gay and clever a personality as has come from the English studios, is something of a critic herself where Jack Hulbert is concerned.

"He is unique," she volunteered, by way of demonstrating her critical sagacity. "There is no one like him anywhere. He has a way about him, and—"

To abbreviate the enthusiastic tribute, Mrs. Hulbert thinks Mr. Hulbert is a bit of all right.

In "The Perfect Gentleman" with Frank Morgan, Miss Courtneidge plays an English music hall queen, but she has a range of characters from old women to young boys.

Cicely Courtneidge... her little girl helps her a lot.

Army Medical Corps insignia
The insignia of the Medical Corps of the army is the Caduceus, a winged staff of Mercury (Greek, Hermes) with which he controlled the living and the dead so that he could go unopposed where he willed; he carried it especially when he escorted the dead to the world below. In its earliest form it is composed of three branches—one forming the handle and the other two intertwined. Later the intertwined branches were replaced by snakes, and still later wings were added to the staff. Among moderns the Caduceus is used also as an emblem of commerce over which Mercury was the presiding divinity.

For trimming has a prominent place in all the showings of sport coats for fall with success and heavier much favored. Many of the coats and suits for sport wear are built along swaggar lines for that casual air.

With the football season close at hand, these fall trimmed swaggar models take an added interest with gay football colors in novel weaves and fabrics. There are several popular shades of rust; greens are good and finger browns important. By featured.

Shown above are three views of a swaggar looking sport coat done in a rust color monotone trend. It is cut on full swaggar lines with deep welt lapels, two slash pockets and large rust colored buttons, one at the collar and one at the waistline.

The chin—chin two way collar of swaggar can be worn high or low, and looks equally smart either way. The unusual pointed back detail shown in the small sketch at upper right provides a tailored yoke effect reaching almost to the waistline.

Republican Ticket In the Town of Esopus

Roscoe V. Elsworth, former chairman of the Ulster county board of supervisors, and representative of the town of Esopus for more than eight years, was chosen at the town caucus Saturday to run for reelection on the Republican ticket in November.

The entire slate chosen at the Esopus caucus follows:
Supervisor—Roscoe V. Elsworth, Port Lwen

Town clerk—Webster Munson of Port Ewen

Collector—Matthew Van Tassel of New Salem

Road commissioner—Henry Knoll, Ulster Park.

Justices—Raymond Howe of Port Ewen and Louis Goodrich of Esopus

Assessors—Harry Williams of Rifton and Harold V. Story of Ulster Park

School director—Harry Elsworth of St. Remy

For the office of town clerk, Mr. Munson was opposed by the present incumbent, Charles W. Card, who lost in the balloting. Rhule Kniffen of West Park opposed Mr. Van Tassel for collector and there was a four cornered fight on for road commissioner. Henry Knoll defeated Arthur Haber of New Salem, Harry Eckert of Rifton and Jalmars Souminen of Rifton.

Flemming Named for Supreme Court

The Supreme Court of the United States in declaring the National Industrial Recovery Act obnoxious to the spirit of the American people as well as to the Constitution of the United States. Let us protest the processing tax on pork and the killing of pigs to create a scarcity of the people's food. Let us protest the plowing under of cotton and the rewarding of those who can but do not grow it in largess from the treasury. Let us protest that dream of harnessing the tides at Passamaquoddy. Let us protest the holding over the heads of the unemployed of the nation the expenditure of four billion eight hundred million dollars for election purposes in 1936. Let us protest the regimentation of business. Let us protest the invasion of our liberties by the fiat of the President. Let us protest not only for a 'breathing spell,' but against the dictator who has assumed the power to withhold or grant a 'breathing spell' to the business of the American people.

Courts as Political Plums.

"This is not an off year. The right to vote this year is the opportunity of a lifetime. Have we lost our patriotism? Are we willing in this judicial district to put up the job of supreme court justice as a political plum? Shall we be accused of choosing supreme court justices under the power of the little O'Connell oligarchy? Who is it that denies endorsement to that faithful judicial servant, Judge Staley? It is not the bar of this district for it knows that Judge Staley is the most experienced and expeditious judge, who knows how to dispatch business, who is worth above the less experienced and expeditious upwards of one hundred thousand dollars a year.

"The coming election will call at the ballot box for protest against rank partisanship in the election of our judges. If in the state arena Democrats and Republicans can endorse Chief Judge Crane and Associate John T. Loughran for the court of appeals; if the Republicans in the Fifth district with a twenty majority could endorse a Crouch or Merrill, I do not know why it cannot be done in this district by the Democrats. The endorsed judge who is fit for his job is the most independent official in our system of government.

The People Are Speaking.

"Fellow delegates, the oligarchy may refuse to endorse, but they should not darken the blue of your sky. Rhode Island in a Congressional election has spoken of the policies of the President. A Democratic majority of twenty thousand has in a recent Congressional election been turned into a Republican majority of thirteen thousand. Pennsylvania has spoken in an off year in an impersonal election involving the policies of the President. It has wiped out a Democratic majority of one hundred and twenty-five thousand and substituted a vote against the policies of the President with a majority of two hundred and twenty-five thousand. If it had not been an off year the majority against the policies of the President in Pennsylvania would have been four hundred thousand. Those ratios applied to this judicial district would galvanize this hopeless Albany Republican contingent into fighting qualities inspired by the name of William Barnes. Let us then concede that Judge Staley has a chance to succeed.

Flemming's Fine Record.

"There are two Supreme Court Judges to be elected this year and I am honored to be selected by the Republicans of Ulster County to present the name of an excellent lawyer, Harry H. Fleming, native of Kingston, product of our public schools, forced early to earn his living, became an employee of The Ulster & Delaware Railroad Company, and after a period of years working in its offices, became its paymaster and then became secretary to its General Manager of the road, transferred to the law department, he took up the study of law, finishing with a year at the Albany Law School. He was admitted to the bar in 1902. He is truly a self made man. He has had wide experience as a practitioner in the country, state and federal courts. He is facile plineps in the trial forum and prepares and argues with rare success in the Appellate Division and in the Court of Appeals. He is the ex-President of the Bar Association of Ulster County. He is the Treasurer of the Federation of the Bar Associations of the Third Judicial District. He was long President of the Board of Education of our city, and has served five years as Corporation Counsel. Ulster county holds no better character. I commend him to the voters of this district as a candidate worthy of their profound consideration when they come to the ballot box. His candidature means the satisfaction of every reasonable expectation of a people desiring the services of an excellently qualified man for judge. Voters are asked to examine his qualifications. They will find that he will make the most fitting choice for Judge Staley's associate as Supreme Court Judge."

Justice Staley Renominated.

ELLIS J. STALEY.

Justice Staley was renominated to succeed himself, his name being placed before the convention by former Congressman Rollin B. Sanford of Albany, who said in part:

Has Served the Public Only.

"We name Ellis J. Staley. Fourteen years ago he was elected by the people to this great office. He was then about 44 years of age. Immediately upon his election, he gave himself completely to the public service. For fourteen years he has been a just judge. No personal, political, partial or private consideration has had a place in his life. He has given without reservation. He has labored without limitation. He has studied the law, the letter as well as the spirit of it, the human side as well as the traditional precept, and his decisions over the years constitute a notable contribution to the great body of the law.

"By all this experience in court, in chambers, in conferences and conflict, his mind, his ability, his character and capacity have grown with the years, until now he is an asset of great value, not only to the court in which he presides but to the people of this judicial district, in whose lives the administration of the court plays a very important part.

"Will the mere fact that the Republican party is not now predominant in this judicial district prevent Judge Staley's continuance on the bench? Will mere political consideration destroy for the people an asset of so great value? Are we as a people so labeled, so circumscribed, so completely in the power of political groups that we cannot use the suffrage for the higher good of the community in which we live?"

Great Qualities Recognized.

"The thousands of men who have come to the court as jurors and have gone home with his praises on their lips; the thousands who have come as witnesses or litigants and have spoken only of his fairness and his impartiality; the thousands or more lawyers who intimately know the value of this judicial career and will testify with hardly a dissenting voice to his great qualities; will not their testimony be conclusive as to the value of this career to the community?"

"The political label, the Star or the Eagle, whatever its value in our troubled lives, does not ornament the bench or the judge who sits thereon. Character justifies a judge, learning ornaments him, kindness recommends him, hard labor distinguishes him. Such a judge, so justified, so recommended, so distinguished, is Ellis J. Staley. In this judicial district and in this state he has earned what he can never lose, an honored place among the judges of higher repute in the judicial history of this state."

Fred Simpson of Accord is the association president; S. M. Aldrich of Lake Katrine, is vice president, and the directors are C. C. Dumond, Ulster Park; Fred Dubois, New Paltz, and E. M. Newell Sherman Case Called Fabrication

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 30 (AP).—The case against Newell Paige Sherman, Sutton scoutmaster charged with murdering his wife for love of an 18-year-old girl, was described as a "whole fabrication" and the result of gossip as defense counsel made closing arguments today at his trial.

Asserting there would be no case if the alleged confession were taken out, Attorney William W. Buckley, in a plea lasting more than an hour and a half, declared:

"Were it not for the gossip, Newell P. Sherman would be today walking the streets of Sutton."

Buckley concluded his argument shortly before noon and presentation of the state's case and the charge of Judge Thomas J. Hammond alone remained before the fate of the choir singer was given into the hands of a jury, a group of his peers—meat cutters, painters, clerks and school teachers.

Buckley reviewed Sherman's account of the drowning—that their canoe tipped over and he was unable to save her—and cited evidence of the screams of Sherman's 22-year-old wife as indicative of his innocence.

"A desire for the spectacular," inspired by the novel, American Tragedy, was responsible for charging his client with murder, Buckley asserted.

Of Father Magill, a Sunday school teacher and the "other woman" in the case, Buckley said he had no desire to denounce her or to try to justify adultery.

In his own cross examination Sherman admitted being intimate with Miss Magill on one of a series of clandestine meetings.

Arguing that if Sherman intended killing his wife he would have sufficed her screams, Buckley pointed out the defendant weighed 240 pounds while the mother of his two children weighed only 115.

The defense counsel asserted the evidence showed the confession was dictated by police and that Sherman was so affected at the time he signed the document he did not read it.

Democrats Name Schirick and Bergan For Supreme Court

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 30 (AP).—Democratic and Republican conventions of the Third Judicial Convention, meeting in quick succession, today nominated candidates for two Supreme court posts.

Democrats nominated Justice Harry E. Schirick of Kingston, now serving by appointment of Governor Herbert H. Lehman, and Police Justice Francis Bergan of Albany.

The third judicial district is composed of Albany, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Sullivan, Ulster, Greene and Columbia counties.

"Human Test Tubes" Visiting Here, After Prize of $70,000

Three young men, survivors of 600 boys and 32 girls who in April, 1928, started out to become "human test tubes" in a scientific experiment schedule to extend over 12 years, arrived in Kingston late Sunday night, having come down from Troy, with roller skates of their means of locomotion. They expect to spend the week in Kingston and Ulster county.

The three are Frank Fielding, 26, of Hollywood, Cal., Maurice Walton, 32, of Lancashire College, England, and George Richards, 26, of Winnipeg, Canada. The experiment, the terms of which these three have withstood and carried out for over seven years now, is sponsored by the Mayo Bros. Clinic of Rochester, Minn., and is being financed by the Rockefeller Foundation of New York.

The goal, so far as the contestants are concerned, is a prize of $70,000, which is to go to the one in the best health at the end of the 12 years. It is stated, however, that the three remaining contestants have agreed to share the prize.

In all the contestants at the conclusion of their trial will have covered some 80,000 miles in various countries of the world, over 70 in all. They are limited to certain means of locomotion, such as bicycles, roller skates, ce skates, skis, etc. They may not sleep in a bed, must take their rest sitting upright in a chair, or lying on a hard surface, such as a table or on the floor.

Their diet is strictly regulated. Frank Fielding, one of the three men, said this morning that at present he was on a liquid diet, such as crushed fruit, meat broth, milk, etc., with an allowance of nine slices of bread daily. One of the others is on a diet of concentrated food.

The aim of the experiment, it is stated, is to determine how various climates, diets and exercises react on people and it is hoped that as a result of the data being recorded much valuable information may be secured as to the metabolic processes of the body.

Frank Fielding, who is spending the week in Kingston, the other two men visiting various places in the county, will speak at the Kiwanis and Rotary meetings in Kingston this week. He brings to the Kingston Rotary messages from the Rotary Clubs in Kingston, Ontario and Kingston, Jamaica. He expects to visit the schools of the city and give talks and is also scheduled to talk at a meeting at the Orpheum Theatre on Saturday afternoon.

State Savings Banks Association Officers

Buffalo, Sept. 30.—Harold Stone, president of the Onondaga County Savings Bank, Syracuse, was elected president of the Savings Bank Association of the State of New York at the close of its 42nd Annual Convention here this morning. The following vice-presidents also took office:

First vice-president Myron S. Short, secretary Buffalo Savings Bank.

Second vice-president Earle W. Stone, president Binghamton Savings Bank.

Third vice-president Henry D. Rodgers, treasurer Albany Savings Bank.

Fourth vice-president Charles M. Dutcher, chairman Greenwich Savings Bank, New York.

Fifth vice-president George S. Downing, president Jamaica Savings Bank, New York.

In his message as new president Mr. Stone declared that the progress made by the savings banks in co-operating among themselves should be extended to include other types of financial institutions. The Commercial banks and Savings banks "are not competitive," he said, "each is a specialist and the best in its field." They must recognize this fact and cooperate to serve their respective publics to the greatest degree of effectiveness.

Earlier in the session, Fred N. Oliver, counsel to the state savings bank association declared that "the social security bill was one of the most important ever passed by Congress. It is here to stay in some form or other." We can anticipate

A long period of experimentation in this legislation he said, and pointed to comparable legislation in Great Britain which has been amended twenty-four times in the past twenty-five years as an indication of the number of changes we might expect. "There will be a great pressure for increasing the liberality of the provisions," he declared. The thirty years the reserves accumulated in the trust fund for pensions will amount to thirty-two billions dollars and for unemployment—sixteen billion dollars, all of this he said must be invested in obligations of the United States Government.

The closing session followed the Association's Annual Dinner last night, at which Dr. William Mather Lewis, President Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., declared that "the people of the earth are allowing to slip through their fingers the most precious possessions of civilization—liberty." Dr. Lewis made a plea for rugged individualism, a term which he declared had been recently much maligned but which he pointed out described the quality which had made America great.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee following the convention, William M. Campbell, President American Savings Bank of New York will be reappointed treasurer; Paul W. Albright will be reappointed general secretary and Miss Margaret Deerschuk will be reappointed assistant secretary.

HEART

trouble, in its many forms, can be corrected, in most cases, by Chiropractic.

Pressure (due to misaligned vertebrae) on the nerves supplying this mighty pump of the body prevents it from getting enough power from the brain to do its work. Weakness follows and disease is the result.

Chiropractic

scientifically relieves this nerve pressure and the heart regains strength.
